Great Treatise on the Stages of Mantra: Chapters XI-XII (The Creation Stage) (Treasury of the Buddhist Sciences)

Tsong Khapa's Great Treatise on the Stages of Mantra (Sngags rim chen mo) is considered by the present Dalai Lama to be one of Tsong Khapa's two most important books (along with his Lam rim chen mo) is his masterful synthesis of the principles and practices of all four classes of Tantra, which formed the basis of his innovation in creating the esoteric "Tantric College" institution and curriculum in the early fifteenth century. With detailed reference to hundreds of works from the Tibetan Kangyur and Tengyur, the chapters presented and studied in this volume concern his treatment of the creation stage (bskyed rim) meditations of Unexcelled Yoga Tantra. This includes a detailed analysis emphasizing how and why such creation stage practices utilizing deity yoga to transform death, the between, and life into the three bodies of buddhahood are indispensable to creating a foundation for successfully entering the culminal yogic practices of the perfection stage. (A subsequent volume will present the perfection stage chapters of this essential masterwork.)

An important work for both scholars and practitioners, this annotated translation is supplemented with extensive support materials. A companion volume of the critically edited Tibetan text annotated with the found quotes from Tengyur and Kangyur texts in Tibetan (and Sanskrit where available) also will be published in a limited edition, and as an e-book.
